

Ken Musko, retired educator is now re-fired and has a new passion to strengthen marriages and the family which has led to an opportunity to host a new flagship TV talk show in production for Family Magazine TV. The show is dedicated to equipping, encouraging, strengthening and preserving the family and marriage. Some of his guests include world-renowned authors, speakers, seminar leaders, gospel groups and Christian comedians. Among them are: Dr. Gary Chapman, author of "The Five Love Languages," Dr. Willard Harley, "His Needs, Her Needs," Cheri Fuller, "When Women Pray," Ambassador Mike Radford, Steve and Annie Chapman, "Married Lovers, Married Friends," Dr. Chuck and Jenni Borsellino, Hosts of TV's "At Home Live," The Martins, Louise Mandrell, The Blackwood Quartet, Carolina Boys, Dixie Echoes Quartet, comedians Jeff Allen and Bill Gaither's newest talent find ventriloquist, comedian and musician Taylor Mason. These are among the fifty members of a Family and Marriage Initiative Team that appear on the show and some are featured on Marriage Enthusiasm Renewal Seminars and in a new major book project due out June 2004. Others also involved in the book include: motivator and author Zig Ziglar, "Courtship After Marriage," DR Patrick Morley, "The Man In The Mirror," DRS. Gary Smalley and John Trent, "The Blessing," Dr. Kevin Leman, "Sex Begins In The Kitchen," DRS. Henry Cloud and John Townsend, "Boundaries in Marriage" and Randy Ietto, "Gods Plan For Marriage." Christian Marriage Enthusiasm Renewal Seminars are held at churches, resort sites, conference centers and on cruise ships. Couples have an opportunity to renew their wedding vows at the end of the seminars. For further information about the cruise and seminars, visit our website at www.familymagazinetv.com

Long before he became involved in Family MagazineTV, Ken was doing Marriage Enthusiasm Renewal Seminars and cruises to enrich and encourage couples, Ken was a motivational speaker and instructor. Before retiring, Ken was an internationally known educator and motivational speaker. He is a 1966 graduate of West Virginia University. In 1972, Ken received America's Foremost Secondary Education Award, Teacher of the Year. In 1980, he received one of the nation's highest and most prestigious awards, The National Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge Teacher's Medal for "Outstanding Accomplishment in Helping Achieve a Better Understanding of the American Way of Life." He shared this honor with Ambassador Shirley Temple Black, Entertainer John Denver and actor Jimmy Stewart. Ken was selected as one of the Top Ten Teachers in Pennsylvania by the Pennsylvania Department of Education in 1980. As a result of his activities and teaching philosophies, he is being emulated across the globe in business and in education. Many of his unique educational programs had him speaking by invitation at the United States Department of Education. Ken has also been a featured speaker and presenter at many state and national educational meetings. Included among these are The National School Board Association Conference, The National American Vocational Association Conference, The National Association of School Administrators and The Annual Schools That Work Development Conference. His adventures into the business and corporate world bring a fresh approach that participants will never forget. Companies like IBM, Data Processing, Management Association, Penn United Technology Inc., and Association of Hospital Auxiliaries are a few of his clients. His achievements have brought him national attention from all television networks, including a documentary on NBC TV's "Weekend Magazine," "The Today Show," "NBC's Real People," national "PM Magazine," and many other radio and TV talk shows. TV personalities such as Walter Cronkite, Paul Harvey, Mike Wallace and Harry Reasoner have spoken highly of Ken and his work. Bob Brown of ABC-TV's "Evening News" and 20/20 said about Ken, "He has touched a responsive chord in the hearts and minds of the American public." His unique style and action-oriented approach present a rare and unusual experience.
